

CHOICES TO CONSIDER

There are many things to consider following the death of a loved one and when it comes to arranging their funeral service the choices are many. Some may have left specific wishes with regard to their funeral but others 'leave it to the family'.

The following list details just a few things that you may wish to think about and discuss as a family before you meet with the Funeral Director. Please print off this list as a guide and fill in any details you know or thoughts you may have.

Our first question is invariably is the funeral to be ?

- Burial or Cremation _____
- Service to be held at _____
- Choice of Coffin _____
- Press Announcement (which publication(s)) _____
- Religious or Non-religious Service _____
- Hymns and or Music Choices _____

- Order of Service / Hymnbooks _____
- Floral Tributes or _____
- Donations (which charity/ies) _____

Other questions we are likely to pose depending on your choices are -

Is the grave (for a new burial) to be a single or double depth ?

In the case of a second burial “ Is there a memorial on the grave “ ?

Do you require the use of a Limousine ?

Do you have any other special requests ?

Cremated remains may be scattered at the Crematorium in the Gardens of Remembrance, buried in a churchyard or cemetery or you may wish to have your loved ones ashes with you at home. Family members may also like a keepsake with a token amount of ash.

There are several choices of container for all these purposes and this can be discussed when you feel the time is right.
